Britain Girds Loins to Meet Industrial War

LABOR HURLS DEFI OF TRIPLE STRIKE OF NATION'S TEETH

Country Divided Into Two Hostile Camps as the Greatest Labor War of History Looms.

KING ISSUES CALL TO ARMED FORCES

Reserves Included, While Volunteers Are Asked to Help Meet Emergency Caused by Coal Strike.

BY A. E. JOHNSON.
United News Staff Correspondent.
London, April 8.—Great Britain is divided into two hostile armies. Unless some unforeseen event intervenes before midnight four days hence, the greatest labor war in the history will develop from a threat to an actuality.

On the side of unionism and under the banner of industrial nationalization and maintenance of high wages, stand nearly 4,000,000 men of three great federations—miners, transport workers and railwaymen.

On the other stand, Great Britain's regular army, augmented by the entire reserve forces, called out by proclamation of King George, the navy and citizen volunteers recruited from the public.

"For the first time in the history of the country," Lloyd-George declared in his announcement of the king's proclamation, "the nation is confronted by an attempt to coerce it into capitulation by the destruction of its resources. The government is fighting for the life of the country."

Premier Meets Stone Wall.
Once more seeking to bend the miners' will on the point of guaranteeing safety of the mines before opening wage negotiations with the owners, the premier again met flat refusal by the strike leaders to consider anything but the wage dispute.

"You would take away from us our greatest weapon," the extremist leaders argued.
"The safety of the mines is a national issue and must be guaranteed," was Lloyd-George's dictum.

Shortly after announcement of the miners' refusal to meet the owners except on their own terms, the triple alliance went into session. The result of its deliberation was a foregone conclusion. While the house of commons was waiting word from Downing street, announcement was made that "unless the miners terms for the proposed conference are met in the meantime, the triple alliance will meet on Monday."

SPEEDERS TO GET HEAVY PENALTIES IN POLICE COURT

Fines for violations of the city speeding laws will be made much heavier than have been current in police court, unless there is a considerable check in the large number of speeders. It was intimated Friday by Recorder George E. Johnson.

Three well-known Atlanta men were haled before the police court judge and fined $15 each for speeding. They were arrested by Officers Harrison and G. E. Williams. They were given warning by Judge Johnson as to second offenses.

The defendants were T. B. Grace, a salesman, of 247 West Peachtree street; C. K. Smith, another salesman, of 1215 Peachtree street, and J. G. Evans, an engineer, of 75 East Linden street.

Homing Instinct In Atlanta Lost When Night Falls

Thousands Attracted by Call of Churches and Lure of Amusement Houses.

There is dust upon Atlanta's hearthstones. The chairs on the front porch look out at night on a teeming city in gloomy desolation. For Atlanta has lost the homing instinct—at least while nights are young, and being youthful, active, nocturnal telephone calls at Atlanta residences are as unavailing as democratic pleas for postoffices.

There are reasons for the condition. Consider these things. There are eighty churches in Atlanta holding revivals. Word comes that the revivalists are preaching to packed pews. That means that between 20,000 and 30,000 Atlantans are attending church services nightly.

And then there are the movies. Estimates by the persons familiar with the lure of the silent drama have it that 15,000 sit before the screen each night. Vaudeville houses and the legitimate theater draw at least 10,000 more from sitting around the place waiting for the time to kick out the cat.

Motoring isn't exactly an unpopular pastime, especially on moonlight nights, and it has been said that there are some gentlemen who are wont to spend their evening hours and some of their whereabout investigating the hidden secrets of "down the river" and similar sciences.

And the prospects are that when the real warm weather arrives and night bathing in the parks begins, the situation will be even more acute.

OGLETHORPE BOYS HURT IN ACCIDENT

Three Members of Baseball Team Injured on Way to Game When Auto Turns Turtle.

While going around Dead Man's curve at what is said to have been a tremendous rate of speed, a large sedan, driven by Richard Sawtell, Atlanta youth, who is a student at Oglethorpe university, overturned at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon and severely injured Jules Price, utility infielder of the Oglethorpe baseball team, and slightly bruised and scratched Oscar Walton, third baseman, and Lamar Cooper, another infielder, who were occupants of the car seat.

The automobile was en route from Oglethorpe university to Grant field where the players were scheduled for a game with Georgia Tech. According to information, Sawtell had turned the car around and was heading to the field, and the three members of the team together with Frank Sims, of Dalton, Oglethorpe cheer leader, and Clyde King, of Atlanta, accepted the invitation.

The three injured boys were rushed to Davis-Fischer sanitarium, where it was found that Price had received a broken arm. Cooper and Walton were said to have been only slightly injured, and were discharged from the hospital after physicians dressed a number of bruises and scratches.

Police authorities are investigating the accident. Sawtell was speeding at the time he reached the sharp point known as Dead Man's curve.

Auto, Diamonds, And Cash Stolen By Bold Bandit

Leaping onto the running board of an automobile driven by R. W. Flournoy, son of W. C. Flournoy, of 32 Arizona avenue, as he was driving alone past the Georgian Terrace about midnight Friday night, a bandit held a pistol to the young man's head and ordered him to drive to East Fifth street, at a place where no houses were near he ordered the bandit to get out.

The bandit took a diamond earring and some cash from young Flournoy, and ordered him to lie flat on his back on the sidewalk. The bandit drove off in the automobile. Flournoy then called the police.

The automobile broke down after the bandit had gone a block in it, and before abandoning it, he smashed all six spark plugs with the butt of his gun.

LUNACY APPEAL HALTS DECISION IN PEEK TRIAL

Alleged Wife Murderer Is Remanded to Jail Without Bond, Pending Decision by Judge.

ATTORNEYS CONFER WITH PROSECUTOR

Daughter Gives Testimony, Pointing to Harmonious Family Relations Before Shooting.

Marietta, Ga., April 8.—(Special.) The commitment trial of Jewett S. Peek, charged with the murder of his wife, terminated suddenly today when the attorneys for the defense, after two hours of examination of witnesses, asked a conference with the solicitor-general. They were then granted by the court a delay of decision until the judge of the superior court could pass upon an application for a lunacy commission. Peek in the meantime will be remanded to jail without bond.

Peek showed little of the spirit displayed when he took the stand, and a word and look no part in the conferences of his brothers and his attorneys, who sat about him. His daughter, his 14-year-old son, and other relatives sat near him throughout the trial.

Peek was a justice court in Cobb county so largely attended, and it was apparent that the feeling against Peek, which was displayed by some of the days after the tragedy, had changed. Only four witnesses were put on the stand, including the daughter, and those gave their testimony of harmonious family relations and expressed a belief that Peek was mentally unbalanced. The orderly conduct of the crowd and many expressions of sympathy evidenced their approval of the action of the court.

TEACHERS SEEK 12 MONTHS' PAY

Plan for Merging Fulton County High School With Those of City Favored by Committee.

Resolutions asking the continuance of school teachers' monthly salary through the summer holidays and endorsing the plan for merging the Fulton County High school with the high schools of Atlanta, were presented to the Fulton county board of education Thursday afternoon by a committee of five teachers from the Fulton County Teachers' association, who met with the board at their regular meeting.

The resolutions, which were recently adopted by the association, stated that the present wage of school teachers and principals averaged $58 per month for teachers and $82 monthly for principals, when considered on a basis of twelve months in the year, which, it was stated, is insufficient for the necessities of life.

"In view of the fact that these sums are entirely inadequate to meet necessary living expenses, and in view of the fact that the teachers will not be able to obtain employment during the summer months, on account of the scarcity of positions, the committee requests the board to continue the salaries through the vacation months," the resolutions stated.

A request was also made that the teachers be allowed ten days' full pay during the school year for sickness, and ten days' half pay upon furnishing a doctor's certificate as proof of illness.

After hearing the resolutions read the board voted to refer the matter to the teachers' committee, which is composed of three members of the board, this committee to report its decision at the next regular meeting.

POSTOFFICE TO BE LOCATED AT BUCKHEAD

Washington, April 8.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—The postoffice department notified Congressman Upshaw today that a postoffice station would be established on May 1 at Buckhead, between Atlanta and Camp Gordon, to be known as "Bolton Branch," and as soon as arrangements could be perfected a station also at Bellwood, at the junction of Marietta street and Bellwood avenue.

SECURITY OWNERS SEEK CONFERENCE ON RAIL PROBLEM

National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities Joins With Unions in Plan to Harding.

TWO OFFICIALS TALK TO PRESIDENT FRIDAY

Would Have Both Owners and Employees Discuss Wage and Work Conditions on Roads.

Washington, April 8.—The National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities joined today with five railroad labor unions in proposing that President Harding call a conference of representatives of both owners and employees to discuss the railroad problem, particularly as it affects wages and working conditions now in dispute between the railroad labor board.

S. Davies Warfield, president of the association, and Darwin P. Kingsley, president of the New York Life Insurance company, conferred for an hour with the president on the general transportation situation and suggested the conference as one of the means for adjusting the difficulties of the roads.

The request from the unions was in the form of a telegram from B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor.

Coincident with the conference at the white house and the receipt of the telegram, Chairman Cummins, of the senate interstate commerce committee, announced he had drafted a resolution for introduction next week, authorizing a general and exhaustive investigation of railroad affairs. He plans to begin the inquiry about April 15. Means for bringing about a reduction in rates and operating expenses and the question of efficiency under private ownership will be the principal angles to be gone into. Rail managers will be heard first, and labor representatives will follow.

No comment on the conference today was made at the white house, but after the meeting a memorandum left the president by the representatives of the security owners was made public by them, saying the conference "covered a wide field."

See Reason by Men.
After suggesting that "properly called meetings between the men and those representing the railroads be held under the auspices of the existing governmental agencies—the labor board and the interstate commerce commission"—the memorandum said:

"We are on record that wage adjustment is only one part of the problem," and expressed the view that this "should be attained under circumstances carrying assurances to railway workers that whatever may be brought about is reasonable and just."

"It occurs to us," the statement continued, "that it is not an unreasonable position on the part of those representing the men that deficiencies in revenue should not be met by wage reductions alone disconnected by evidence, of the obligatory general economic condition of the country."

The securities owners, it was added, felt assured that in cases where a railroad cannot be reached with an individual railroad management, the owners of the securities should be immediately called upon to discuss their differences by regional boards, usually composed of three members of the board, this committee to report its decision at the next regular meeting.

The telegram to the president from the labor unions proposed that all wage disputes be held in abeyance pending the conference and settlement of the question of rules. It included twelve points which were described as "labor's self-evident and inalienable rights" which would have to be settled at the suggested conference. It further specified that the national agreement should not be discontinued in any way pending the outcome of the conference. The twelve points included the eight-hour day, overtime pay, and other labor demands.

(Signed) 'THOMAS BARRETT, JR., Chairman.'"

Now that the local committee of Augusta as well as that of Savannah has agreed to secure its quota, a large part of aims of industrial tour have been accomplished and leaders are confident that the rest of the state will do its share. Dr. Matheson sent the following message: "The splendid news that Augusta has voted to raise $278,000 for a Greater Tech is an inspiration to every man in our party. We send our hearty greetings and congratulations to the patriotic, far-seeing citizens of Augusta."

DAYLIGHT SAVING PLANS DEFEATED

Representatives of Federation of Trades and of Street Car Men Appear Before Committee.

The proposed daylight saving ordinance was adversely Friday afternoon by the committee on the subject of the street car men's union and a number of individuals were present at the hearing to fight the advocates of faster time.

It developed at the public hearing held by the committee that there is strong opposition to any change from the present time, and many citizens were present to oppose it. The ordinance was based on a petition signed by several hundred citizens asking for a return to daylight saving.

Representatives of the Atlanta Federation of Trades, a delegation from the street car men's union and a number of individuals were present at the hearing to fight the advocates of faster time.

They declared that the plan would operate to no advantage to the working classes, but on the contrary would cause inconvenience by forcing them to change their habits an hour in the mornings, and they urged the committee to vote down the ordinance.

Only three speakers appeared in favor of the ordinance. They were Charles Robertson, secretary of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and two spokesmen representing the Western Union Telegraph company.

Action of the committee was unanimous on the motion to adverse the ordinance.

JUDGE IS ASKED FOR INSTRUCTIONS AFTER MIDNIGHT

Jurors Consider Case From 4 O'Clock in Afternoon Until 1 Saturday Morning Before Retiring.

BRILLIANT ARGUMENTS MARK CLOSING SCENES

Williams Confident of Freedom—W. M. Howard and Greene Johnson Make Notable Appeals.

BY MARION KENDRICK.
Constitution Staff Correspondent.
Covington, Ga., April 9.—(Special.) Georgia's most dramatic trial came to an end Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock and the life of John S. Williams, charged with murder in connection with the killing of eleven negroes in the vicinity of his Jasper county plantation, still hangs in the balance, the jury retiring at 1 o'clock this morning to resume its deliberations at a later hour Saturday.

After remaining out for nearly eight hours the jury sent for Judge John B. Hutcheson and on his arrival the twelve men filed in at 12:12 o'clock Saturday morning. The foreman informed the court that the members desired further instructions on the time of a commission of crime.

"Would you gentlemen rather have the instructions now or wait until daylight?" asked the judge.

"We would like to have them now," was the reply.

Referring to his notes of his first charge, the court stated that it was sufficient for the state to show that the murder was committed prior to the return of the bill of indictment.

A review of reasonable and unreasonable doubt, the weight to be placed on the defendant's statement, circumstantial evidence, corroboration, murder, malice, establishment of an alibi, and the forms of verdicts, was also given.

Williams entered the courtroom with Sheriff Johnson just before the instructions were given. His hair was ruffled and there was no tie in his soft silk collar. He was smiling, and remarked that he had not been asleep during the evening. Both Solicitor Brand and Attorney Greene F. Johnson had dressed hastily.

When the judge had completed his instructions he returned the bill of indictment and the jury retired. The men filed back into the antechamber, but soon after retired for the night.

In a still crowded courtroom, the night, with members of his family, awaited the verdict for hours, but the signs of nervousness which marked his appearance Thursday and early Friday morning, as he listened to ex-Congressman William M. Howard's masterful closing address for the state, have passed away.

Williams is now as quiet and as unconcerned as he was while in the Fulton county Tower, for the night.

NAVY RECRUITING TO FULL STRENGTH: MANY MEN NEEDED

Officers and men in charge of the Atlanta branch recruiting service of the U. S. navy are again gathering in recruits with a view to bringing the navy up to a full national war basis. Some two months ago the navy department in Washington stopped the enlistment of all men, the reason being that the navy was full to the maximum strength authorized by the navy department. As a consequence all men connected with the recruiting divisions were recalled and given details aboard ships. Men constantly being discharged from the service for various reasons is given as the reason for the full quota being diminished, necessitating renewed efforts to again bring the navy up to the required standard of force and efficiency. Enlistments in all branches of the naval service are now authorized and men possessing an aptitude for any particular branch may obtain information by applying to the naval recruiting station, postoffice building.

M'NAMARA ENDS HIS PRISON TERM ON TENTH OF MAY

San Quentin, Calif., April 8.—John J. McNamara, serving a fifteen-year sentence for murder in connection with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building, October, 1910, will complete his sentence and leave the penitentiary May 10, prison officials said today.

McNamara has been a model prisoner and earned all the credit allowances of his sentence. Advice from Los Angeles said other charges that had been preferred against McNamara, at the time he was sentenced, have been outlawed. Officials expressed the opinion, however, that McNamara faced several charges in Indianapolis in connection with the alleged illegal transportation of dynamite.

His brother, James B. McNamara, is serving a life sentence in the penitentiary here in connection with the murder charges.

MAN'S THREATENED SUIT FOR DAMAGE

Husband No. 1 in Matrimonial Mix-Up Says He Will Sue Ernest Buchanan for $50,000.

A new legal complication in the remarkable matrimonial career of Mrs. Johnnie Pearl Pruitt Hester Davidson was seen Friday when Paul C. Mains, who married the pretty young woman Tuesday night, only to lose her Wednesday to George B. Davidson, who married her while under the impression that the wedding on Tuesday was the final divorce decree, announced that he will sue Ernest Buchanan, young Atlanta attorney, for $50,000 damages for alleged slander that Mains committed adultery with an undivorced wife in Florida.

Mains made known his intentions to seek damages for Attorney Buchanan's alleged slander charge shortly after receiving a telegram from the clerk of court in Duval county, Florida, in which he stated that he was sending by mail a copy of the final divorce decree granted in that court last year, which legally separated Mains from young Davidson, who was married.

The certified copy of the Florida court proceedings in the divorce case are being awaited here by Attorney Buchanan, who is now in the city, and he is expected to file a suit against Mains Tuesday night, when the habeas corpus hearing was held before Judge L. Bell, of Fulton superior court, who will decide those cases.

Another interesting development Friday was the fact disclosed by records at the courthouse that Mains was married to Mrs. M. Hester on October 23, 1919, to Herbert T. Hester, of this city, and three months afterward, in the divorce suit, which was brought by the husband, it was alleged that Hester had "fraudulently induced and coerced" her into the marriage.

Davidson could not be located Friday. He had been registered at the Hotel Belmont, but had left Friday. It was thought probable that he had returned to his home in Little Rock, Ark., pending the hearing before Judge Bell Tuesday.

Mains is at the Wincoff hotel, and says he will spare no efforts in his attempts to recover the bride, who has as yet made no declaration as to which of the husbands she prefers. He declared that he will "go broke" or win her.

Mains was divorced. Paul C. Mains, of Miami, who early this week married a young woman in Florida, only to have her marry two days later another man on the ground that Mains had not obtained a divorce from his first wife, was divorced here last year by Mrs. Wilhelm R. Mains, Duval county records show. The final decree in the case was entered May 11, 1920.

Democrats to Hold Party Caucus Today

House Members to Nominate Candidates for Minority Honors.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN, Constitution Bureau, Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, April 8.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—House members of the democratic minority will hold a party caucus at 11:30 o'clock tomorrow morning to nominate candidates for speaker, whip and members of the ways and means committee. The selection of Representative Claude Kitchen, of North Carolina, as the minority candidate for speaker is assured, and his selection will make him the minority floor leader in the House.

There is a scramble on for changes in general committee assignments among the democrats, but these are not matters for the caucus to settle.

The ways and means committee is the committee on committees and the democratic minority of the committee will be the final court in placing before the speaker the democratic assignments.

There will be several changes in Georgia's delegation, however, as provided for on all the more important committees. Lee being the ranking democrat on agriculture; Bell ranking in post office and post roads; Park ranking on accounts; Upshaw ranking on prohibition. Wise being on the military; Vinson on the naval; Brand on education and banking and currency.

Larsen on roads; Wright on merchant and marine; and so on.

With the exception of house appropriations Georgia members have on the whole the best committees obtainable, and there is a strong movement to place Lee on the appropriations. In that event he would be compelled to retire from agriculture, which he is loathe to do.

All in all Georgia members of the House in this hour of an overwhelming republican majority, are as satisfactorily placed in committee work as it is practicable.

Auto and Bicycle Thefts Reported to Police Friday

The theft of an automobile and a bicycle was reported to the police Friday night. Samuel Houston, of Decatur, a member of the DeKalb Motor company, reported that a black Chevrolet automobile with a dealer's license number 614 on it, had been stolen about 9 o'clock from Bill's street, near Carnegie way.

Mrs. W. L. Camp, of 565 West Peachtree street, notified the police that a black bicycle, with green stripes, the property of her small son, had been stolen from the front yard about 6 o'clock.

Woman Asserts She Was Doped On Wedding Day

Mrs. Gladys Bennett Awarded Divorce From Gordon Bennett.

Moultrie, Ga., April 8.—(Special.)—That she was so surprised when told of her own marriage that she could hardly believe it, was the declaration of Mrs. Gladys Bennett, in superior court here, during the trial of her divorce suit against Gordon Bennett. Mrs. Bennett asserted that she had been married for two days before she knew it. "I must have been doped," Mrs. Bennett declared. "I haven't even a hazy recollection of the ceremony." Mrs. Bennett was awarded a first degree verdict after the jury had been out for only a few minutes.

The whereabouts of Bennett are unknown. Mrs. Bennett, who before her marriage was Miss Gladys McCallum, of Norman Park, states that she left her husband immediately after learning of the marriage. The ceremony, which occurred at the home of Mrs. Bennett's sister, at Valdosta, was conducted by Rev. Ed. Pain, her brother-in-law. Mrs. Bennett was visiting her sister at the time.

Testifying at the trial, the minister said that Mrs. Bennett did not appear at the time of the wedding. He asserted, however, that he attributed her manner to nervousness occasioned by the ceremony.

Willard Connell Acquitted by Jury

No Arguments Offered, State Introducing Two Witnesses in Rebuttal of Testimony of Defense.

Willard Connell, Pike county farmer who has been on trial in the United States district court for perjury on his first trial, was acquitted by the jury on Friday morning.

The case went to the jury after Judge Sibley had delivered a charge to the jury embracing a charge in law and facts covering circumstantial evidence. There were no arguments, the only procedure after the defense had announced its case closed being the introduction of two witnesses in rebuttal by District Attorney Connell.

Connell, after the jury had rendered its verdict, said: "I knew they would do it. It was just a case of a gang of negroes who were hired to do it. They thought they could beat us out of it."

This statement was supplemented by Judge Lloyd Cleveland, of Griffling, who said that he had been a defense counsel, who said that the statement of Connell was in no way to be taken as a reflection on the district attorney's office.

The case attracted wide interest, and a large number of people gathered in the courtroom to witness the trial, which was presided over by Judge Sibley.

EXPRESS CASE GIVEN TO JURY

Final Arguments in Federal Trial at Macon Conclude at 3 O'Clock in Afternoon.

Macon, Ga., April 8.—After deliberating four and a half hours, a jury in federal court in the trial of 45 persons accused of conspiracy to rob the American Railway Express company of goods valued at more than $1,000,000, failed to reach a verdict at 3:30 o'clock tonight, and at that hour was taken to supper.

At 9 o'clock Judge Evans instructed the jury to retire for the night and resume deliberations at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

John W. Bennett, district attorney, in his closing argument to the jury today declared that the crime of "conspiracy is the most dangerous to the law and order of a free country."

Judge Maynard, counsel for the defense, made a most remarkable statement to the jury. He explained the law of conspiracy and said that the government has made it to induce the officials. If my friend will furnish me the testimony that the express officials encouraged these men to steal, the grand jury will meet here the first Monday in May and I will prepare an indictment against these officials and lay it before the grand jury. They ought not to make statements unless they can back them up.

Conspiracy Defined.

It required an hour and forty-five minutes for Judge Evans to charge the jury. He explained the law of conspiracy and said, "It is not necessary to prove that these defendants are guilty of conspiracy, but that they are guilty of conspiracy inasmuch as they have actually agreed in terms to rob the United States by stealing express shipment, or to have such unlawful purpose according to a previously devised plan. It is sufficient to show by the proof that the defendants pursued by stealing express shipment, or to have such unlawful purpose to steal goods being transported by the American Railway Express company while under government control, as charged in the indictment."

"The essence of a conspiracy," Judge Evans said, "is a common design and such a common design is established if it appears that two or more persons in any manner expressly or tacitly came to a mutual understanding. If two or more persons do various acts, so related as to indicate a unity of design to accomplish an unlawful purpose, an inference may be drawn by the jury."

Judge Evans reviewed briefly the testimony that had been heard during the trial, telling at least one act testified to concerning each of the 45 defendants.

ARCHITECTS TELL OF SCHOOL PLANS

Board of Education Rescinds Action Taken at Last Meeting in Turning Down Corporation Plan.

After hearing from the Atlanta chapter of the American Institute of Architects a personal explanation of its proposition to furnish plans for the new school buildings to be built out of the bond issue, the board of education Friday afternoon voted to rescind its action taken at the last meeting rejecting the proposal. The plan of the architects was not adopted but was referred to a joint committee of the board and the bond commission.

At the board's last meeting it had the proposition of the architects in a written offer to form a corporation empowered by law to execute contracts with the city under which they would furnish full architectural service in connection with the construction of and repairs to school buildings contemplated under the bond issue.

The board considered the proposal and turned it down flat. P. Thornton Marve, acting president, at the head of a delegation of architects, members of the Atlanta chapter, appeared before the board Friday and explained in detail just what the architects' intentions are.

ther from the minds of the architects the attempted formation of a combine, which was the impression under which the board acted in rejecting their tender of service, but the architects and the other hand have agreed to organize into a corporation in order to become more responsible to the board and to the city.

The corporation is to be organized with the regular officers and a board of directors which will be a responsible body, both legally and financially in all its dealings with the city.

It was stated by Mr. Marve that "before any competition, either local or general, can be had, a very definite program covering each type of building must of necessity be prepared. As this program must give the approximate amount of space required for each unit or department, the general character of construction and other details required to limit the competition to one or plan and design, such a program can be prepared only with the most competent architectural assistance at considerable expense."

The ordinary competition causes a great deal of delay on account of the various stages involved; the preparation of the survey, the preparation of a program based on this survey; the time for each architect to prepare sketches; the time spent in judging properly a large number of sketches; the revision of the sketches to suit the authorities, which would occupy approximately six months; while the usual time for preparation of plans and specifications for the work, estimating and letting of contracts would have to be added.

Would Be Limited.

"Should you invite and receive any number of designs in open competition," he said, "you would be limited to selecting only one design for any particular building, as you could not under any program that would attract architects of ability and standing make use of any ideas given in the designs not accepted."

Should your proposal be accepted, you would receive the benefit of any and all ideas suggested by the architects in the corporation which it would be practical and desirable to incorporate in the plans and designs finally adopted."

Mr. Marve favored a standardized building plan as to the interior, but declared that the corporation would furnish the plans on a basis of 6 per cent of the cost of the structures, and the corporation would pay the fee among its members in proportion to the amount of work done by each.

BIBLE CONFERENCE TO OPEN APRIL 14

The Wheat Street Baptist Church Bible conference will open April 14 and run ten days with three sessions a day. The morning session from 11 to 1 o'clock, afternoon session from 3:30 to 5:30 and the night session from 7:30 to 10 o'clock.

Vital questions affecting the home, church and the community life will be dealt with by expert preachers, educators, laymen and citizens, white and colored. Some of the strongest Christian workers of the race will constitute the faculty.

Among these will be Revs. E. W. D. Isaac, of Nashville, Tenn.; D. D. Crawford, of Georgia; Charles Hubbard, of Morehouse college, school of divinity; D. W. Cannon, of Georgia; J. W. Jackson, of Georgia; J. T. Brown, of Illinois; and E. R. Carter, pastor of Friendship Baptist church. Dr. P. James Bryant is director of the conference.

Held For Columbus.

I. R. Davidson, aged 52, a salesman, was arrested Friday in the Leo apartments on Cooper street by City Policeman Chaffin. He was held at the police station on a blanket charge of "suspicion," but it was stated that he is wanted on alleged charges in Columbus, Ga.

FIFTY PER CENT CUT IN COTTON PREDICTED

Indications Are That Much Land Will Not Be Planted, Says Brown.

A cotton acreage reduction of 45 to 50 per cent of the normal planting is assured in Georgia, according to State Commissioner of Agriculture J. J. Brown, who said sufficient data was at hand to indicate such a reduction. The decrease in fertilizer use in this state is about 50 per cent of normal, he said.

A still more drastic reduction in cotton acreage will be made, he predicted, unless the price of cotton rises to 20 cents a pound before May 1, when the planting season will be nearly past. The indications, he admitted, are that cotton prices will not rally to such an extent.

Marietta District Conference Hears Splendid Reports

The Marietta District Conference of the A. M. E. church is holding an interesting session in the New Hope church here. Delegates from many districts are in attendance, and the reports turned in by the churches are splendid.

President Louis Morris Brown, in addressing the members of the conference, laid stress on the necessity of a thorough education and a broad understanding, stating that the great leaders of the race are born in the church. Talks both inspiring and optimistic were delivered by Rev. J. R. Perry and the educational sermon by Rev. W. M. Upshaw was received with great enthusiasm, in that it pointed out the great spiritual and financial opportunities possible for the people of the district.

Preparing the people for strong, capable and Christian leadership was urged in an address by Elder L. A. Townsley. Rev. C. L. Williams, presiding elder of the Rome district, requested that the members of the conference attend in a large body the Allen Christian Endeavor league in Macon next August. A stirring address was made by Rev. Richard D. Stinson, head of the Atlanta Normal and Industrial institute, on the useful education of the negro masses of the south.

DOCTOR AND PATIENT CHARGED WITH FRAUD

Among the twenty-six indictments returned by the Fulton grand jury Friday afternoon was one against Dr. C. Jones and Charles Peoples, charging that the two defrauded the Pilgrim Health and Life Insurance company out of $20 weekly sick benefit.

It is charged in the indictment that Peoples worked at the Atlanta gas house at night and slept at home in the day and claimed that he was sick. It is further charged that Dr. C. Jones signed the fake certificate which enabled Peoples to collect the benefit.

FAKE SICK CLAIM COSTLY TO NEGRO; GIVEN $50 FINE

John Banks, negro, was convicted on the charge of forging the name of Dr. L. W. Wiggins to a fake certificate on the industrial life and health insurance company of Atlanta yesterday, and was sentenced to serve eight months or pay a fine of $50, by Judge R. N. Harp, who is presiding in the superior court this week for Judge John D. Humphries.

This is the first case to be tried since the grand jury started investigating cases of fraud against industrial health and life insurance companies by certificates of sickness.

When Banks was confronted with the evidence to show that he had been working as a coal heaver while drawing a weekly sick benefit, he agreed to enter a plea of guilty. The prosecution then agreed to a suspended sentence.

The evidence showed that Banks secured a sick benefit blank from the company, filled it out, signed the name of Dr. Wiggins, and then filed it with the company. The prosecution claimed that Banks shovelled coal for a local concern at $5.00 per car at night, and in the day he kept his arm bandaged, claiming it was broken.

Several other indictments are pending, some against physicians. The solicitor-general's office was informed Friday that only a few physicians now are suspected with having aided in the alleged fake claims. Physicians, white and colored, have joined the insurance companies to break up the insurance bunco work, it was said. No suspicion was placed on Dr. Wiggins in the Banks case, the signature having been shown to be a forgery.

Britain's total national expenditure during the world war, 1914 to 1920—actually exceeded that during the two and a quarter centuries between 1688 and 1914.

DORSEY AND BERRIEN LEAVE FOR NEW YORK

Visiting Eastern Financial Circles to Float School Warrants.

Governor Dorsey and R. N. Berrien, Jr., local banker, will leave for New York City and Albany, N. Y., at 3 o'clock this afternoon in connection with school warrants issued by the governor. The school warrants are to be paid out of the revenue expected to be raised next year, and Attorney-General R. E. Denny, in a detailed opinion, has decided that they are legally binding on the state under certain conditions.

Quoting the constitution of the state, which provides that appropriations by the legislature may not exceed revenue on hand together with such anticipated revenues already assessed but not yet collected, Attorney-General Denny said in his statement that "so long as this is done and followed, warrants issued for school purposes are absolutely legal, notwithstanding the revenue for paying same is not actually in hand."

Governor Dorsey and Mr. Berrien, armed with this opinion, will visit New York financial interests, as well as officials of the state government to make arrangements for floating the warrants. They expect to be gone from the city for about one week.

Issuing warrants on the basis of anticipated revenue, Attorney-General Denny said in his opinion, was legalized in an act of August 13, 1915, which said that the act was "for the purpose of anticipating" lection of the taxes of the current year." Therefore, stated the attorney-general, each year's warrants must of necessity be predicated upon the anticipatory collection of taxes for that year.

Alleged Burglar Held.

Charged with the theft of 75 pounds of sugar, a ham and suit of clothes, and of burglarizing the home of W. H. Eaton, located close to the Atlanta, Birmingham and Alabama railroad, a negro, who gave his address as 10 Beerman street, is in the Fulton county tower under a $3,000 bond. County Policeman Frank Doneho made the arrest Thursday afternoon.

Turk and Thaxton Big Heroes In Oglethorpe's Win. Latter Getting 2 Homers and Triple

By CLIFF WHEATLEY.

While "Chief" Turk bustled himself in pitching a beautiful game against Georgia Tech yesterday afternoon at Grant field, one Mr. Thaxton, playing second base for the Stormy Petrels, contained himself with seeing how far he could thump balls off the deliveries of a couple of crack twirlers. The result of the Turk-Thaxton combination was a shock to some 5,000 spectators, and Oglethorpe won the struggle, 6 to 3.

Thaxton's whole duty, it seemed, was to elude long hits when run, and his ability, it was said, was to deliver. His first circuit scamp came the first time he was hit between left and center, driving in Simms ahead. Mr. Thaxton, in the second inning, launched a fast one to the right field dumper that missed going into the bleachers by less than a yard. This three-base bludge bringing in another runner, Mr. Thaxton launched home run after home run, his next time out, and delivered with another home run in the seventh. Hope, in the eighth, hit a "clouting fool" was called to bat again in the eighth with the bases loaded, but he was unable to continue his long distance hitting. Anyway, Mr. Thaxton might have figured he had done enough damage—Tech is unquestionably of that opinion this morning.

Turk Horos In.

The "Chief" figured in this here business by turning in a pitching performance that can leave no doubt concerning his ability. He was picked for a couple of counties in the first inning, but these runs batted down the pitcher. Turk, in the opening frame, Turk hit six hits, including a home run. He landed one safe single in the eighth and followed with two more in the ninth.

Turk's control was just what it always is, which is almost perfect. He walked one, but he had such command of the ball that he could afford to be a little off, which he was. The best record any pitcher has made against Tech is Turk's record in the eighth inning, which is the best record any pitcher has made against Tech in the eighth inning.

The work of this sterling twirler was brilliant and he was able to control the game. Turk hit six hits, including a home run. He landed one safe single in the eighth and followed with two more in the ninth.

Isn't a Regular.

Hunting features of the game, Turk has just come across the alarming fact that Mr. Thaxton is not a regular. Turk is ordinarily a good pitcher, but he is not a regular. Turk is ordinarily a good pitcher, but he is not a regular.

WHOSOEVER WILL MAY COME!

What a happy word to the weary souls of men to know that Jesus has died for them! He has atoned for our unspeakable transgressions and if we but believe on Him, His blood will wash our sins away.

Have you the assurance of His redemption in your own heart? What if He were to come today? "Be ye also ready, for in such an hour as ye think not, the Son of Man cometh."

The Baptist churches of Atlanta urge you to accept this great salvation—this Life Eternal wrought out on Calvary for every soul that will accept Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord.

There is a meeting in every Baptist church in the city tomorrow at 11 o'clock and again tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock and so on through the week every evening. The invitation is cordial and it comes from men and women who want to see you saved by the Blood of the Crucified One.

7:30 P. M.—Song Service under direction of D. L. Spooner, with a choir of 124 voices. Sermon by Evangelist R. W. Thiot.

The Baptist State Sunday School Convention, held last week, made it necessary to merge the revival with the convention. There will be no gatherings to merge in the coming week. Everything will be devoted to soul-winning. Every member of the church is urged to give their undivided support to the closing week of the revival effort. Great singing and pungent preaching is to characterize the services during the coming week.

Slogan: Every Methodist in His Church

WE PLEAD—

1. That the regular attendants and the "haven't-been-in-a-long-time's"—every Methodist—be in some Methodist church with a friend.
2. That every Sunday School teacher go to her class, after prayer and planning, with the intensest conviction, "I MUST lead every one of them to Christ!"
3. That every Methodist attend the Great Interdenominational Rally at Wesley Memorial, 11 a. m. Monday, April 11.
4. That every Methodist in Atlanta put his or her membership in an Atlanta church before Victory Sunday closes. If the hundreds of Methodists whose membership is "back home" will do this, it will mean victory in Atlanta for God's cause in many important things in which they now fail.

PANAMA REJECTS BOUNDARY AWARD

National Assembly Refuses to Accept the White Decision Favoring Costa Rica.

Bawboa, April 8.—(United News.)

Panama has declined again to reject the White award, giving the disputed borderland to Costa Rica. The national assembly voted to inform President Porras of its dissent to the note in reply to that of Secretary of State Hughes, rejecting the White decision. The assembly also voted to support the president in any steps necessary for the support of the national honor.

The day's events are expected to cause a mild rise in the anti-American feeling and American soldiers probably will be forbidden to enter Panama on leave for some time.

The assembly takes the attitude as before, that Justice White, in making the award, exceeded his jurisdiction.

BRITAIN GIRDS LOINS FOR INDUSTRIAL WAR

alliance will strike at midnight.

The challenge met an immediate response from the premier, who gave to the commons the significant message of King George. By this proclamation, army reserves, naval reserves and the reserve flying corps are called to the colors for active duty.

As far as the government is concerned, Lloyd-George made it plain throughout his explanations in the house of commons, the last word has been spoken. The next move is up to the triple alliance or the miners who were the original parties to the dispute.

By their action of Friday, the railway men and transport workers have empowered their executives to take any action, in any way, and at any time that they see fit. The movement that the general strike would be called for Tuesday was made. Thereafter, only on the responsibility of the executives. If they chose, the leaders could call out the men at once, and the fear has, therefore, been aroused throughout the country that the settlement of Tuesday as the day for calling out these millions of workers may be superseded by a new order declaring for immediate action.

Ready in Minute.

President Gosling, of the transport workers, declared to the United News that his men were merely awaiting orders from headquarters. Asked how soon the transport workers could get out after strike notices had been sent out, he replied: "In a minute—or less."

Great Britain is now virtually under martial law. Lloyd-George is clothed with the virtual powers of a military dictator, and has the entire military resources of the nation at his command.

Mayors of the various London boroughs have jointly asked the transport workers to assure distribution of the city's supplies or foodstuffs. A tentative promise of this has been given by the men's leaders.

In support of his determination not to recede from the position that the maintenance of the mines was an undebatable condition upon which any negotiations could be held, and once more bringing the issue before the public as one of "national safety," Lloyd-George read to the commons the correspondence between the government and mine leaders.

He showed that Hodges had reiterated his refusal to permit the men to resume pumping, and made it plain that the miners were resolved to let the mines go to destruction in the belief that this would "intimidate" the nation into surrendering.

"The desperate character of this policy is calamitous," he declared. "It is increasingly clear that large and organized bodies of miners, by threats and violence, are preventing the pumping and the protection of the mines. We must protect the mines ourselves."
